TABLE OF CONTENTS: Hospital visit and game highlights from the 2018 East-West Shrine Game.
On behalf of Shriners International, it’s my pleasure to welcome you to St. Petersburg, Florida, and the 94th edition of the East-West Shrine Game. This signature event is the longest running college all-star football game in the country, and has become recognized as a viable pathway to the NFL for the players.

I also want to welcome and thank our donors, corporate sponsors, spectators and volunteers, and, of course the coaches and players, for being here with us today and supporting this important event, which we depend on to raise awareness of the Shriners organizations.

Shriners International is a fraternity based on fun, fellowship and the Masonic principles of brotherly love, relief and truth. The fraternity founded Shriners Hospitals for Children as its official philanthropy in 1922. What began as one hospital dedicated primarily to caring for children coping with aftereffects of the polio virus is now a world-renowned pediatric health care system with locations in three countries. Our fraternity, which has nearly 200 chapters in several countries and thousands of clubs around the world, continues to support this unique health care system.

Today, Shriners Hospitals for Children provides care for a full range of orthopaedic conditions, as well as burn injuries, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate. At our locations, children receive the best possible care we can provide, delivered by a multidisciplinary team of medical professionals in a compassionate family-centered setting, regardless of the families’ ability to pay.

Shriners Hospitals for Children is also known for conducting innovative research to improve treatment protocols and the quality of life of people everywhere, and for offering excellent education programs to medical professionals.

Shriners International has a long, distinguished history and tradition of brotherhood, fellowship and service to others. Members of our fraternity are part of an international community committed to improving lives and communities, and making the world a better place. Men from all walks of life, including presidents and politicians, businessmen, entertainers, and your friends and neighbors, have chosen to become Shriners. We are bound together by shared values, and a desire to have fun and help others. We are proud to be part of the East-West Shrine Game, and would be honored to share more information about both the fraternity and the philanthropy with you. Please feel free to speak to any one of us – we’re happy to share our experiences of brotherhood and service.

I would also like to acknowledge and thank Executive Director Harold Richardson, Chairman of the East-West Shrine Game Committee Jeff Sowder, and all the committee members for their hard work and efforts to ensure the success of this special and spectacular event.

Again, we thank everyone for being here with us today, especially the players and coaches. We hope you will continue your support of Shriners Hospitals for Children in the years to come, and will consider becoming part of the worldwide family of Shriners International.

Enjoy the game!
On behalf of Shriners Hospitals for Children, welcome to the 2019 East-West Shrine Game. We are glad to have you here with us today. We also want to especially thank our sponsors, donors, spectators, Shriners and volunteers, as well as the coaches and players, for being part of this special event, which helps raise awareness of the incomparable work that Shriners Hospitals for Children does to improve the lives of patients and families every day.

Shriners Hospitals for Children is a health care system with primary locations in three countries, as well as hundreds of outreach efforts that extend around the globe. Every one of our experienced, compassionate staff members is committed to our three-part mission of providing excellent medical care, conducting innovative research and offering quality education programs for medical professionals. While the mission has three parts, it has only one goal: to improve the lives of the children and families we serve. Our patients receive comprehensive, individualized, quality care for orthopaedic conditions, burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate in a family-centered, positive environment, all regardless of the families’ ability to pay for services.

Since our first hospital opened in Shreveport, Louisiana, in 1922, we have helped children overcome physical challenges, and discover they can achieve amazing things, believe in their dreams and have lives full of hope and promise.

Shriners Hospitals for Children is known for conducting research that is designed to discover the underlying causes of complex medical conditions in order to improve treatments and change lives. Our researchers are responsible for many breakthroughs that have led to new protocols and added to the medical knowledge regarding several conditions, including burn injuries, osteogenesis imperfecta (also known as brittle bone disease), cerebral palsy, scoliosis and clubfoot.

In addition, our medical staff shares their expertise through a variety of educational programs for medical professionals, both locally and internationally. By maintaining relationships with several medical schools, Shriners Hospitals for Children fosters an academic environment committed to providing high-quality education for its medical staff and excellent care to all patients.

Shriners Hospitals for Children relies on the generous donations of Shriners, corporations and the general public to continue this mission, which the Shriners fraternity founded more than 95 years ago.

Thank you for supporting Shriners Hospitals for Children and for being part of the East-West Shrine Game tradition. Please enjoy your time with us.

I am honored to welcome you to the 2019 East-West Shrine Game. This is our eighth year here at Tropicana Field in St. Petersburg, Florida, and we are looking forward to a great day of football, played for an even greater cause. The East-West Shrine Game is a very special game—a game that is very close to my heart.

In addition to being the longest running college all-star game in the nation, the East-West Shrine Game benefits Shriners Hospitals for Children and its mission to improve the lives of children.

It is important to remember that while you are here, you are a part of “more than just a game.” Since 1925, some of football’s greatest athletes and coaches have contributed to the tradition of the East-West Shrine Game, and brought us together in support of Shriners Hospitals for Children. The East-West Shrine Game is proud to support the health care system, and its goal to make the world a better place.

Shriners Hospitals for Children improves the lives of children every day by providing pediatric specialty care, conducting innovative research, and offering outstanding educational programs for medical professionals. Children with orthopaedic conditions, burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate are eligible for care, regardless of the families’ ability to pay, and receive all care and services in a compassionate, family-centered environment.

The East-West Shrine Game is one of Shriners Hospitals’ national signature events, and is very important to the success of the health care system, helping to raise funds and increase public awareness.

I would personally like to thank all the coaches, volunteers, staff and players for generously offering your time and efforts to ensure the success of the 2019 East-West Shrine Game. I also want to express my appreciation to all those cheering from the stands today, as well as our television viewers who are watching the game live on NFL Network. You all help make this important game a reality year after year, and I am so grateful for your support.

I would also like to congratulate the 71 players from the 2018 Game who earned a spot on a final NFL roster—we wish them the best of luck in the future, and look forward to watching their professional careers develop.

As a member of the football community for more than 30 years with a true love for the game, I consider it a privilege to be part of the East-West Shrine Game. Thank you all for being here, and for joining me in supporting Shriners Hospitals for Children.
I’m pleased to welcome you to the 94th East-West Shrine Game, here in St. Petersburg, Florida. We hope you have a spectacular day watching future NFL stars participate in what has become a time-honored tradition in college football.

On behalf of the East-West Shrine Game Committee, I want to thank everyone who put so much effort into preparing for this important event, especially our staff, committee members and volunteers. We greatly appreciate your hard work and commitment.

I also want to thank our sponsors, coaches, players, fans and Shriners for being part of the East-West Shrine Game. Your support of this signature event helps raise awareness of the life-changing work of our philanthropy, Shriners Hospitals for Children. Since 1922, our health care system has improved the lives of children by providing excellent care, conducting innovative research and offering outstanding education programs for medical professionals. Children and families the world over have found hope, healing, compassion and medical expertise at our health care facilities.

Your presence here today makes you—in our eyes—a member of our large, extended, worldwide Shriners family. We invite you to learn more about our organizations—Shriners International and Shriners Hospitals for Children—and hope that you will join our efforts to make the world a better place.

Please enjoy the game, and be proud of being part of this incredible day—a day that will help us to continue changing the lives of children who come to us for medical care.

Thank you again for your support of the East-West Shrine Game, Shriners Hospitals for Children and Shriners International. We hope to see you here again next year.

Dear East-West Shrine Game Fans:

On behalf of the citizens of the Sunshine City, welcome to the 2019 East-West Shrine Game. This year marks the eighth year St. Petersburg has hosted the longest running college all-star game in the country.

St. Petersburg has been welcoming visitors to our city for more than a century. While you are here, please discover our excellent museums, the restaurants and shops throughout our city, our great parks and beaches, and most of all, the warm hospitality for which we are world famous.

I would like to acknowledge the efforts of the players, coaches, staff and volunteers who have worked so hard to make this event a success. Let us also take time to thank Shriners International and the Shriners Hospitals for Children. Their dedicated work providing pediatric medical care, world-class research and educational opportunities for medical professionals around the world is to be honored and celebrated.

Once again, welcome to the City of St. Petersburg. Enjoy the game, and return soon to the Sunshine City!

Rick Kriseman  |  Mayor  |  St. Petersburg, Florida
At Shriners Hospitals for Children, children and families find hope, compassion and excellent care for complex medical conditions. Every day at our locations throughout North America, we are improving lives and helping dreams become realities.

Our health care system was founded by the Shriners International fraternity as its official philanthropy. The fraternity continues to support Shriners Hospitals for Children today, and countless members serve as volunteers. Everyone connected with our health care system is grateful for the vision of those innovative Shriners who established and encouraged the growth of what has become a respected and world-renowned source for pediatric specialty care.

THE SHRINERS INTERNATIONAL FRATERNITY

Shriners International is a Masonic fraternal organization founded on the principles of brotherly love, relief and truth, with the added elements of fun and fellowship. Founded in 1872, the fraternity originally had 13 members—today there are more than 250,000 Shriners belonging to nearly 200 temples (chapters) in several countries. In addition, there are thousands of affiliated Shriners clubs located around the world. Within their temples, Shriners participate in a wide variety of clubs and units, which offer activities ranging from marching bands to performing choreographed routines in various types of mini-cars, to being clowns. Many of the clubs and units participate in community parades, bringing joy and laughter to those who line the streets in anticipation of the memorable events.

In addition to being a fun-loving lot, Shriners are compassionate, and generously support their philanthropy, which they started in response to the realization that many children caught in the polio epidemic of the early 1920s did not have access to care.

Since opening the first Shriners Hospital in Shreveport, Louisiana, in 1922, our hospitals and staff have been providing the best care we possibly can to the children and families who come to us, regardless of their ability to pay for services.

Today, Shriners Hospitals for Children is one of the largest pediatric sub-specialty health care systems in the world, with a dedicated, full-time staff of experienced pediatric orthopaedic surgeons, burn surgeons and more.

At each of our locations, the focus and emphasis always centers on the needs of the patients, and individualized care plans are designed in conjunction with the goals and concerns of the patients and families. Our staff is determined to provide the best, most comprehensive care possible in order to help our patients become as healthy, active and independent as possible.

PROVIDING THE BEST POSSIBLE CARE

Shriners Hospitals for Children is known for compassionate, innovative patient care. Some say what our staff and patients accomplish are miracles. But it’s not that the care provided—whether it be any of a range of therapies, a surgical intervention, or creation of a prosthetic or orthotic device—is a miracle. It’s that our staff knew what kind of treatment to offer, did not accept that a particular child would not or could not improve, and expended the time and effort to help that child.

REACHING MORE KIDS IN MORE PLACES

Shriners Hospitals for Children is determined to reach as many children as possible who could benefit from the services we offer, regardless of where they live. We are also committed to providing care that is as accessible and convenient as possible for our patients. Accordingly, we are increasing our domestic and international outreach efforts and expanding our telehealth capabilities.

SPINAL CORD INJURY
In the mid-1980s, Shriners Hospitals for Children established the nation’s first spinal cord injury (SCI) rehabilitation programs specifically designed for children and teenagers.

In these programs, an interdisciplinary team of surgeons and other physicians, therapists, therapeutic recreation specialists, psychologists, social workers and dieticians work together to provide individualized, comprehensive care plans for our patients with SCI. In addition to providing treatment, our staff works with the patients’ family members to help them understand the social and emotional implications of an SCI to help ensure the best possible outcome for the child, including the ability to have a full, productive life.

Innovative therapies offered at Shriners Hospitals for Children include body-weight supported automated treadmill training, functional electric stimulation (FES) bikes, and experiential programs designed to increase independent living skills, build confidence and develop self-esteem.

CLEFT LIP AND PALATE
At Shriners Hospitals for Children, patients with a cleft lip and/or palate are treated by a multidisciplinary team of experts who work to improve the child’s appearance and self-esteem, and their ability to eat, breathe and communicate.

Shriners Hospitals for Children is committed to improving care for children with this condition through a comprehensive, coordinated program of clinical excellence, education and research.

USING STATE-OF-THE-ART TECHNOLOGY
Shriners Hospitals for Children uses some of the latest technology as part of its efforts to provide the best possible care we can for our patients, in order to help them recover to the fullest extent possible. Here are just a few examples:

• ORTHOTICS AND PROSTHESES:
Shriners Hospitals for Children has a long history of providing expertly crafted, correctly fitting orthotic and prosthetic (O&P) devices to children who need them, giving kids with missing limbs and other orthopaedic difficulties the opportunity to believe in their dreams and be active participants in the world around them. Our highly trained O&P professionals can create a full range of devices, from a complete prosthetic limb to the smallest assistive device, for children of all ages efficiently, accurately and precisely.

Shriners Hospitals for Children has established a system-wide approach that is more streamlined, collaborative and technologically advanced. The U.S. Shriners Hospitals have been divided into regions; each has a designated regional fabrication center that supports the O&P departments of specific Shriners Hospitals. The O&P departments and regional fabrication centers are known as Pediatric Orthotic and Prosthetic Services (POPS).

The fabrication centers have electronic carvers, and each hospital location has computer-assisted design (CAD) capabilities.

Future plans for O&P include the development of a pilot program for 3-D printing for sockets, including determining the durability and quality of a printed socket. The socket is the part of a prosthetic device that fits around the residual limb. Its fit and construction are critical to the success of the device for the patient.

• EOS:
Several of our locations have EOS Imaging Systems, a Nobel Prize-winning technology that produces life size, whole body images with up to 85 percent less radiation, compared to conventional X-rays. EOS provides full-body images of patients in a natural standing or seated position in both 2-D and 3-D. These weight-bearing images reveal a patient’s natural posture and allow physicians to analyze the interactions between bones, joints and ligaments from different angles.

Research has indicated that radiation from repeated X-rays can increase the risk factor for cancer later in life. This is a great concern to our medical team, as Shriners Hospitals for Children is committed to providing the best and the safest treatment available to our patients. Radiation exposure is cumulative over one’s lifespan, so EOS imaging is particularly helpful for use with children who need multiple images taken throughout their course of treatment.

CONDUCTING INNOVATIVE RESEARCH
Shriners Hospitals for Children is committed to conducting high quality, innovative research in our service areas to improve the care and quality of life of children with these conditions and challenges, and to increase medical knowledge.

Today, our research efforts are focused on translational research and regenerative medicine, which may one day reduce or eliminate the long-term causes of many of the conditions our patients cope with, including burns and neuromuscular injury and disease.

OFFERING MEDICAL EDUCATION OPPORTUNITIES
Shriners Hospitals for Children is proud of its role in medical education. We have provided residency education or postgraduate fellowships to thousands of physicians, as well as training for other medical professionals.

Many of our physicians also teach at nearby colleges and universities. By maintaining relationships with several medical teaching facilities, Shriners Hospitals for Children encourages an academic environment committed to excellence in the next generation of physicians.

DEPENDING ON DONORS
The generosity of our donors, including the Shriners, the general public and corporations, allows Shriners Hospitals for Children to continue the mission the Shriners International fraternity started many years ago, when it founded our unique, generous and compassionate health care system. To learn more about Shriners Hospitals for Children, or this great fraternity, please visit shrinershospitalsforchildren.org or shrinersinternational.org.
Created by the Shriners fraternity in 1925, the East-West Shrine Game supports Shriners Hospitals for Children while showcasing the next generation of NFL legends. Some of football’s greatest athletes and coaches have been part of the Game. Players Gale Sayers, Tom Brady, John Elway, Allan Page, Dick Butkus, Brett Favre, Gino Marchetti and Walter Payton have all competed on the East-West gridiron.

A TIME-HONORED TRADITION

An important part of America’s football tradition, the East-West Shrine Game is the longest running college all-star football game in the nation.

Broadcast live on NFL Network, and with more than 300 NFL scouts and agents in attendance, the East-West Shrine Game has proven to be a successful starting point for top college athletes seeking careers in professional football. Before the East and West players even set foot on the field for the big game, they will have been through a week of demanding practices and detailed analyses by top decision-makers in the NFL. In addition to media exposure and intensive training, the Game also mirrors the NFL by adhering to the organization’s rules, using NFL footballs and having both teams led by NFL-affiliated coaches.

An invitation to take part in the annual East-West Shrine Game is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for the best collegiate football all-stars in the country to display their talents in front of top representatives from NFL teams. A player’s opportunities in the NFL can be greatly impacted by a strong performance in the game.

PHILLIP LINDSAY

EWSG: 2018 | West Team | RB
College: Colorado
NFL: Denver Broncos | #30 | RB

On May 1, 2018, Phillip Lindsay signed with the Denver Broncos as an undrafted free agent. After an impressive preseason, he made the Broncos’ final roster, and was named the third running back on the depth chart behind Royce Freeman and Devontae Booker. In Week 1, he rushed for 71 yards on 15 carries and recorded two receptions for 31 yards and a receiving touchdown. The following week, in a 20–19 victory over the Oakland Raiders, Lindsay ran for 107 yards and had one reception for four yards. He became the first undrafted player in NFL history with more than 100 scrimmage yards in each of their first two games.

In Week 4, in a Monday Night Football game against the Kansas City Chiefs, Lindsay had 69 rushing yards and added another rushing touchdown. According to The Ringer’s Danny Kelly, “the Broncos undrafted gem Phillip Lindsay is the third-best rookie running back in the NFL.”

At the University of Colorado, Lindsay started 30 of 51 games played, finishing his career as CU’s all-time leader in all-purpose yards (5,926) and yards from scrimmage (4,849). He finished his career as the Buffs’ second all-time leading rusher (3,775 yards) and was the first Buffalo to record back-to-back 1,000-yard seasons. He was named Second-Team All-Pacific-12 Conference and one of the 11 semifinalists for the Doak Walker Award following his senior season. He rushed 301 times for 1,474 yards (4.9 avg.) with 14 touchdowns and caught 23 passes for 257 yards (11.2 avg.) with one score in 2017. He earned second-team All-Pac-12 honors following his junior season after leading the conference with 16 rushing scores.

He finished the season with 244 carries for 1,252 yards (5.1 avg.) with 16 touchdowns, in addition to catching 53 passes for 493 yards (9.3 avg.) with one touchdown. He attended Denver South High School, where he was selected First-Team All-State by The Denver Post as a junior. He finished his prep career as South’s all-time leader in rushing yards (545 att., 4,587 yards, 8.4 avg.), and became the first Denver Broncos Futures Football (middle school program) member to sign an NFL contract.

TRE FLOWERS

EWSG: 2018 | East Team | SAF
College: Oklahoma State
NFL: Seattle Seahawks | #37 | CB

The Seattle Seahawks selected Flowers in the fifth round (146th overall) of the 2018 NFL Draft. He was the 13th safety and the 30th defensive back drafted in 2018. He was the third-best rookie running back in the NFL.”

At the University of Colorado, Flowers entered training camp as a backup cornerback. After impressing the coaching staff, he started competing for the starting cornerback job against veterans Byron Maxwell and Dontae Johnson. After they sustained injuries, Flowers was named starting cornerback by head coach Pete Carroll. He played alongside Shaquill Griffin and safeties Bradley McDougald and Earl Thomas.

He made his professional regular season debut and first career start in the Seattle Seahawks’ season-opener at the Denver Broncos, and recorded eight combined tackles and a pass deflection in their 27-24 loss. Flowers primarily covered Pro Bowl wide receiver Emmanuel Sanders during the game and allowed 10 receptions on 11 targets for 135 yards and a 43-yard touchdown.

As a senior at Oklahoma State, Flowers was a first team All-Big 12 selection and led the team with 79 tackles, two interceptions and eight pass breakups. His senior year, the All-America safety piled up 279 tackles during a productive career. He was chosen for the 2015
Lowry became the first defensive end from Northwestern to be drafted since DE Corey Wootton was selected by the Chicago Bears in 2010 (fourth round, No. 109 overall). He also became the first player from Northwestern drafted by Green Bay since DT James Anderson in 1973 (14th round).

Following his high school career, Lowry was ranked as a three star recruit and received a number of scholarship offers. He ultimately elected to take the scholarship offer from Northwestern and played in all 13 games that year as a backup to future Minnesota Vikings defensive end Tyler Scott. His efforts that year earned him ESPN.com Big Ten All-Freshman Team honors. He played in 48 games with 33 starts for the Wildcats, and registered 134 tackles (83 solo), 31½ tackles for a loss, 12½ sacks, three interceptions (one returned for a TD), 21 passes defensed, three fumble recoveries and three forced fumbles. In his junior year, Lowry was named to the Academic All-Big Ten team and an honorable mention by league coaches. In his final year, he was named as a consensus pick to the Second-Team All-Big Ten team.

DEAN LOWRY
EWSG: 2016 | East Team | DE
College: Northwestern
NFL: Green Bay Packers | #94 | DL

Dean Lowry was selected by the Green Bay Packers with the second of two fourth-round choices (No. 137 overall), the second of two compensatory choices awarded to the team in the 2016 NFL Draft.

Lowry played in all 16 games with 11 starts in 2017 and registered 34 tackles (22 solo), two sacks, seven tackles for a loss, a fumble recovery for a touchdown, two passes defensed, eight quarterback hits and six QB pressures. He earned NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors for his performance vs. Tampa Bay in Week 13. He posted four tackles (all solo), a sack, a QB pressure and a QB hit, and registered his first career TD after recovering a QB Jameis Winston fumble forced by DT Kenny Clark at the Green Bay 38 late in the second quarter and returning it 62 yards. He became just the seventh Green Bay player (since 1982) to register a sack and a defensive TD in the same game. Lowry played in 15 games as a rookie in 2016 and registered 14 tackles (eight solo), two sacks, three tackles for a loss, nine QB pressures and three QB hits. He posted sacks in back-to-back games in 2016, recording one in Week 13 vs. Houston and one in Week 14 vs. Seattle. He appeared in all three postseason contests as a rookie and posted two tackles (one solo) and a QB pressure.

NICK MULLENS
EWSG: 2017 | East Team | QB
College: Southern Mississippi
NFL: San Francisco 49ers | #4 | QB

On Sept. 26, 2018, the San Francisco 49ers promoted Nick Mullens from their practice squad to their active roster. His 1,147 passing yards (yds) in his first four starts with the team are the second-most by a 49ers quarterback (QB) in their first four starts in franchise history.

In his NFL debut vs. the Oakland Raiders (Nov. 1), Mullens completed 16 of 22 attempts (atts) (72.7 percent) for 262 yds, three touchdowns (TDs) and QB rating of 151.9. He became the first player making his NFL debut with the 49ers to throw for two-or-more TDs in that game. With three TD passes against the Raiders, Mullens tied the franchise record for the most TD passes by a player in his first start with the 49ers. He also set the franchise record for highest QB rating (minimum 10 atts.) in his first start with the team (151.9) and ranks third for the most passing yds. (262).

He became the first member of the 49ers to pass for three-or-more TDs in a game since Colin Kaepernick on Nov. 27, 2016, at Miami (three TD passes). Mullens joined Hall of Famers Fran Tarkenton (1961) and Jim Kelly (1986) as the only players in NFL history to throw for 250-or-more yds, three-or-more TDs and no INTs in their NFL debut. His QB rating of 151.9 against the Raiders was the second highest by a QB in his NFL debut since 1973 (min. 15 atts).

Mullens completed 27 of 39 atts (69.2 percent) for 250 yds and one TD vs. the New York Giants (Nov. 12). He completed 30 of 48 passes for a career-high 414 yds and two TDs at Seattle (Dec. 2). His 414 passing yds on the day were the most by a 49ers QB since Tim Rattay registered 417 passing yds vs Arizona (Oct. 10, 2004). He became the first 49ers QB to throw for 400-or-more yds in a single game since Colin Kaepernick in 2013.

Mullens played college football for the Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles, where in 2015 he set single-season school records for passing yardage (4,476) and number of touchdown passes (38). He was named Conference USA Offensive Player of the Year in 2015, and earned Preseason Conference USA Offensive Player of the Year honors in 2016. He finished his collegiate career at Southern Miss as the career passing leader in every statistical category. His 11,994 yards passing and 87 touchdown passes (38) are all single-season school records for passing yardage and number of touchdown passes, respectively. HELPING OUR PATIENTS RECOVER AND EXCEL

The staff of Shriners Hospitals for Children takes great pride in taking the time to get to know our patients, understand their goals, and provide care that considers and encompasses their overall needs and wellbeing. We do all we can to help them achieve their goals and believe in their dreams, and we applaud their determination, perseverance and grace. Here, we share the stories of four amazing young patients:

ANTWON

In 2017, 15-year-old Antwon tore the anterior cruciate ligament (ACL) and the cartilage between the thighbone and shinbone (meniscus) in his left leg during football practice. The injuries caused him to question his future as an athlete.

His family sought assistance from the sports medicine team at Shriners Hospitals for Children—Northern California. There, Orthopaedic Surgeon and Sports Medicine Specialist Nicole Friel, M.D., reconstructed Antwon’s ACL, repaired the meniscus and prescribed extensive physical therapy.

The initial goal of his physical therapy was to maintain the strength of his noninjured joints and muscles, while steadily improving the injured joint through a progressive return of his range of motion and strength.

“Antwon and I set goals that would challenge him to become better than he was before, to reduce the likelihood of reinjury and to prepare him for return to sports with a high level of confidence,” said Bill Workman, PT, a physical therapist at the Northern California Shriners Hospital who specializes in sports injuries.

Antwon said his experience at the Northern California Shriners Hospital has helped him gain the confidence he needs to return to his favorite sports—baseball, basketball and football. “It has made me stronger both physically and mentally and more motivated than ever before,” said Antwon. “I want to finish high school strong, earn a college degree in engineering and become a professional athlete.”

DREW

Drew is an active swimmer, skier, musician and recent high school graduate. Drew was diagnosed at an early age with osteosarcoma, which required amputation of his leg. He has been receiving prosthetic services at Shriners Hospitals for Children—Salt Lake City since the age of 8.

When he was 13, Drew attended Camp Un-Limb-ited, an outdoor recreation and therapy camp for amputees that is hosted by the Salt Lake City Shriners Hospital. Surrounded by other amputees of his age for the first time in his life, Drew thrived at the camp and found new confidence. The event was life-changing for him, and he now calls his friends from camp his “other family.”

Drew loves to be active. Beyond the skiing and river rafting he enjoyed at Camp Un-Limb-ited, he was on his high school swim team and club water polo team. He achieved the rank of Eagle Scout and worked in Florida this past summer as a lifeguard at Disney World. He also loves music, and plays drums, guitar and piano.

Drew represented the Salt Lake City Shriners Hospital as a standard bearer at the Shriners Hospitals for Children Open in Las Vegas in November.

After so many years of being surrounded by health care professionals who took such an interest in his progress, Drew hopes to work in the medical field.

“ANTWON SAID HIS EXPERIENCE AT THE NORTHERN CALIFORNIA SHRINERS HOSPITAL HAS HELPED HIM GAIN THE CONFIDENCE HE NEEDS TO RETURN TO HIS FAVORITE SPORTS—BASEBALL, BASKETBALL AND FOOTBALL.

“DREW LOVES TO BE ACTIVE. BEYOND THE SKIING AND RIVER RAFTING HE ENJOYED AT CAMP UN-LIMB-ITED, HE WAS ON HIS HIGH SCHOOL SWIM TEAM AND WATER POLO TEAM.”
Fourteen-year-old Helen from Missoula, Montana, loves and excels at playing guitar, writing, painting nails, skiing, aerial climbing and rock climbing, though she is missing part of her right arm.

Helen is a right sided, congenital, below-the-elbow (BE) amputee, or in her words: “I am missing part of my arm below the elbow since birth.” In addition to providing surgical treatment to correct underdeveloped fingers on her left hand, the staff of Shriners Hospitals for Children—Spokane has offered Helen prosthetic solutions throughout her life. At age 3, she was fitted with her first prosthesis—a basic rubber attachment to add length to her arm for gymnastics. At age 7, Helen received the first of two prosthetics designed for skiing.

In 2015, Helen asked Peter Springs, O & P manager at the hospital to design a prosthetic specifically for her, just for rock climbing. “One of the really cool things about working in prosthetics is that it allows me to be creative and to open doors to worlds that might not have been available to kids otherwise,” said Springs. “It is especially meaningful to make devices that are for specific activities like rock climbing.”

Helen is able to enjoy all these activities because of both her own determination and dedication and by the specialized prosthetics offered by the Spokane Shriners Hospital.

“Working with my condition will always be a struggle,” said Helen, “but the support from Shriners Hospital makes a big difference.”

Thanks to his orthopaedic team at Shriners Hospitals for Children—Chicago and Pediatric Orthotic and Prosthetic Services (POPS)—Chicago, Tim, 12, received a custom brace that will allow him to ride a typical, not adapted bike, for the first time in his life.

“Tim brought a video from another hospital showing a kid with disabilities riding a bike ... As a prosthetist it is exciting and fun to brainstorm with patients’ ideas,” India Jacobson, CPO, a certified prosthetist with POPS said. “It was also helpful in the process to have his mom, Linda, who was also born without arms, there to help Tim learn to use the bicycle brace.”

Jacobson created the custom bicycle brace using the rear section of a thoracolumbosacral orthosis (TLSO) back brace. She connected it with straps to PVC material that slide onto the bicycle handlebars. With some practice in our hospital’s Patient Activity Mall, Tim was able to attach the straps himself using his mouth. “My brace for bike riding is working out really well,” Tim said.

Linda is happy about the physical and emotional benefits for her son. “Riding a two wheeler requires using muscles not used in daily activities. It’s great exercise and an important part of being a kid,” Linda said. “Having a two wheeler will allow Tim to join his peers this summer and feel like part of the crowd.”

“TIM BROUGHT A VIDEO FROM ANOTHER HOSPITAL SHOWING A KID WITH DISABILITIES RIDING A BIKE ... AS A PROSTHETIST IT IS EXCITING AND FUN TO BRAINSTORM WITH PATIENTS’ IDEAS.”

“THESE ARE JUST A FEW EXAMPLES of the courage, perseverance and tenacity of our patients, and of the difference Shriners Hospitals for Children makes in the lives of our patients and families.”

Every year, Shriners Hospitals for Children selects two National Patient Ambassadors to represent the health care system’s patients. The ambassadors spend the year sharing their stories of perseverance in the face of adversity and the ways Shriners Hospitals for Children has made a dramatic, life-changing difference in their lives. Introducing this year’s National Patient Ambassadors:

Riley

Riley was born with hereditary multiple exostoses (HME), a genetic condition which causes irregular bone growth. Exostoses are more commonly known as “bone spurs,” which typically grow on the end of long bones during childhood and adolescence.

In Riley’s case, physicians discovered growths from nearly head to toe through a full body X-ray when he was only 15 months old. Shortly thereafter, he became a patient of Shriners Hospitals for Children—Tampa.

Over time, Alfred V. Hess, M.D., the hospital’s director of hand surgery, and Shriners Hospitals for Children—Tampa’s Chief of Staff Maureen Maciel, M.D., have performed more than a dozen surgeries to remove growths and lengthen bones in Riley’s arms and legs.

Riley has been a very active patient ambassador for the Tampa Shriners Hospital for several years. He also mentors Theodore, another child with the same rare condition, which Riley said is “one of the best things that happened to me this year.” Theodore’s mom said that meeting Riley and his family gave them hope.

Riley’s family also supports a golf tournament organized by Riley’s dad’s former employer. Since 2002, the C&W Charity Golf Classic has raised more than $500,000 to benefit the Tampa Shriners Hospital.

Riley is glad to have the opportunity to share his story and help others as a National Patient Ambassador. He intends to remain part of the Shriners family.

“I plan on becoming a Shriner when I grow up,” Riley said. I want to be known as someone who gave of his time and his money.”

Lily

Lily, of Paducah, Kentucky, was born with fibular hemimelia, meaning she did not have a fibula, the outer thin bone that runs from the knee to the ankle, in her right leg. She underwent a Syme’s amputation, which is an amputation done through the ankle joint that helps to preserve the heel pad, and she received her first prosthesis a few months later.

When Lily was 18 months old, she became a patient of Vishwas Talwalkar, M.D., pediatric orthopaedic surgeon at Shriners Hospitals for Children Medical Center—Lexington. Over the years, Lily has undergone five surgeries there to straighten her remaining right leg and has received more prosthetic limbs than she can count.

Lily is in her sophomore year at the University of Kentucky. Because of the care she received at Lexington Shriners Medical Center, she has chosen to study nursing, and minor in music. “I hope to be a nurse at Shriners Hospital after graduating,” said Lily. “It is my dream to help provide the same care I received all my life to others as a way to show my gratitude for the Shriners health care system.

“Shriners Hospitals for Children has helped me to not see my leg as a handicap, and instead to look at it as a challenge,” she said. “Because of Shriners Medical Center, I wake up every morning thankful for two legs instead of regretting that I only have one.”

Lily is pleased to be one of our national patient ambassadors. “I am so glad I get to be a National Patient Ambassador and talk to other patients and families who are going through the same things,” said Lily. “Somewhere out there is at least one person who needs to hear what I have to say.” The House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Kentucky honored Lily with a citation for being recognized by our health care system in this way.

“Thank you, Riley and Lily, for being part of the 2019 East-West Shrine Game festivities. And, a special thank you to Lily for singing the national anthem to kick-off today’s event.

Three NFL players selected Shriners Hospitals for Children as their charity of choice for the 2018 My Cause My Cleats initiative during week 13 of the NFL season (Nov. 29 – Dec. 3).

My Cause My Cleats gives NFL players the opportunity to personalize their cleats and raise awareness for the charities and foundations they support. The campaign also gives players a platform to share their stories and explain why the causes are important to them.

Participating players revealed their cleat designs via social media on Nov. 28, during a league-wide “Unboxing Day.” The custom-designed cleats were worn at various games during week 13 of the regular NFL season.

Following the games, all players were encouraged to sign their cleats for auction through NFL Auctions, with proceeds benefiting the players’ designated charities, including Shriners Hospitals for Children.

WE WOULD LIKE TO THANK THE FOLLOWING PLAYERS FOR CHOOSING TO SUPPORT SHRINERS HOSPITALS FOR CHILDREN DURING THIS YEAR’S MY CAUSE MY CLEATS CAMPAIGN:

MEET BILL HAYNES: A BEHIND-THE-SCENES STAR OF THE EAST-WEST SHRINE GAME

For years, the East-West Shrine Game has depended on committed volunteers who whole-heartedly believe in the meaning and importance of the game. Some of our volunteers have been a part of this tradition for many years, and the East-West Shrine Game would not be what it is today without them. We thank all of our amazing volunteers for their dedication and efforts, and for making the game a success year after year.

This year, we are proud to celebrate longtime volunteer and Shriner Bill Haynes, who has been devoted to the East-West Shrine Game for 40 years.

ABOUT BILL HAYNES

Years with the game: 40
Current role: Coach Transportation
Currently lives in: Canby, Oregon

What has been your most memorable East-West Shrine Game Moment?
In 1982, Alabama coach Bear Bryant was the head coach for the East Team. I was the East Team manager at the time. He told me he had to leave at half-time, so I walked him to his car. Bo Schembechler, the head coach at Michigan, had to take over for the second half.

How did you first get involved with the game?
I had just gotten home from college and joined Shriners International. It was Jan. 5, 1980, and they asked if I could help out. I was the East Team manager for many years, and now I do transportation.

What do you do in your “regular life?”
I’m a member of Al Kader Shriners in Wilsonville, Oregon, and I work in the auto industry.

What does the East-West Shrine Game mean to you?
For me, it’s about getting a chance to see the kids and the players. It’s about visiting the hospitals, and the experience of taking the players there. It may sometimes be hard to get them there, but the hardest part is getting them out. It’s also about working with the other members of the game staff. There are six core guys who have been doing it for many years—we’ve got it down to a science. Every year, I get to see them. We do a great job at trouble shooting. If something goes wrong, we know what to do. You’d never know anything ever happened.

THOUGHTS FROM THOSE WHO KNOW HIM BEST

Haynes is a part of a core group of volunteers that have stuck together through many years of the East-West Shrine Game. Over time, these individuals have gotten to know each other very well, and they all have a very special connection to Haynes.

“Bill has always been the guy who was kind of the leader of the group,” said Tom Reeves, director of game operations for the East-West Shrine Game and volunteer for 25 years.

“He was the first guy I ever met on the staff, and he completely took me under his wing. He inspired me; he turned me from just a football guy to a guy who uses football for anything we can for Shriners Hospitals for Children. He was always our rock—no matter what was going on—whenever anything was going wrong—he would just calm everything down. He is truly the reason I got involved with this game, and his dedication inspired me to become who I am today.”

Haynes has also made an impact on East Team Manager Carson Hanks, who been volunteering with the game for 25 years.

“Bill is the epitome of being a volunteer and having the servitude spirit run through your veins,” said Hanks. “He’s been a mentor, East-West Shrine Game historian and story teller. My involvement with the game would not be the same without Bill. I love everything he’s given to me and how high of a bar he’s set for the rest of us.”

The East-West Shrine Game is proud to count Haynes as one of its longest volunteers, and thanks him for his 40 years of dedicated service to the game. We are truly grateful for his time, talent and efforts, all of which has helped make the game what it is today.
You may recognize 16-year-old Alec from the various commercials for Shriners Hospitals for Children that have aired nationally. Alec, a patient of Shriners Hospitals for Children—Chicago, has become a popular television star, been interviewed on numerous national news and talk shows, and has captured the hearts of many with his adorable smile and charming personality.

THE STORY BEHIND THE STAR

Alec lives in the suburbs of Chicago, and is quite the active teenager. From playing wheelchair softball and basketball, to assistant coaching tee-ball, he loves just about any sport. However, because he has osteogenesis imperfecta (OI), also known as brittle bone disease, Alec’s approach to his favorite activities is a little different.

OI is a genetic bone disorder characterized by fragile bones that can frequently and easily break, which can make it hard for Alec to participate in sports. The underlying cause of OI is a lack of collagen—or abnormal collagen—in the bones that prevents them from absorbing appropriate minerals and developing correctly.

Alec has been going to the Chicago Shriners Hospital for treatment since 2002. Since then, he has made great progress thanks to receiving customized treatment from our rehabilitation specialists. Alec receives intravenous (IV) infusions of pamidronate, a medication that slows down the process of bone resorption and improves bone mass. He also routinely visits the hospital for physical therapy, and has had several surgeries.

Thanks to the outstanding care and innovative treatment Alec receives at the Chicago Shriners Hospital, his muscles are strengthening and his bones are breaking less often. This provides Alec with more opportunities to indulge in his passion for sports.

“Without Shriners Hospitals for Children, I wouldn’t be able to dream as big as I do. I know anything is possible because the staff remind me all the time that I can do whatever I set my mind to. I live a full life because of Shriners Hospitals.”

Alec has traveled extensively to represent Shriners Hospitals for Children, including to the East-West Shrine Game, Shriners Hospitals for Children Open, Tournament of Roses Parade, Shriners Hospitals for Children College Classic and Shriners International Imperial Session. At the 2018 East-West Shrine Game, Alec had the opportunity to be on-camera in the NFL Network announcer booth during the game and to attend team practices. He has also been an honored speaker at many events for both the health care system and fraternity, Shriners International.

SHRINERS HOSPITALS FOR CHILDREN — HELPING DREAMS BECOME REALITY

Thanks to the health care system’s focus on improving the quality of life of patients and families, Alec has developed a level of confidence that has opened up a world of opportunities.

Knowing that Alec hopes to be a sports broadcaster someday, the hospital staff has done what it can to encourage faith in that dream. During the NFL Draft weeks in 2015, 2016 and 2017, patients of Shriners Hospitals for Children had the chance to experience the excitement of the draft first-hand when players visited during a Prospect Community Visit. During these events, Alec was given the opportunity to conduct interviews with NFL Draft prospects, which were featured on the NFL website. Alec also created a web-based sports show, Smart Alec on Sports, to follow his dream of being a sports anchor/broadcaster.

In May 2018, the Chicago Shriners Hospital dedicated their indoor basketball court to Alec, naming it “Alec’s Court.” Alec has also received several awards, including the 2017-2018 Shriners International Imperial Potentate’s Medallion and 2018 Most Inspirational Award at the Fourth Annual Night of Champions sponsored by Oak Park, Illinois’ Wednesday Journal. He was also on national championship teams for the National Wheelchair Junior Basketball Championships in 2015, and the National Wheelchair Junior Softball Championships in 2015 and 2016.

Alec has traveled extensively to represent Shriners Hospitals for Children, including to the East-West Shrine Game, Shriners Hospitals for Children Open, Tournament of Roses Parade, Shriners Hospitals for Children College Classic and Shriners International Imperial Session. At the 2018 East-West Shrine Game, Alec had the opportunity to be on-camera in the NFL Network announcer booth during the game and to attend team practices. He has also been an honored speaker at many events for both the health care system and fraternity, Shriners International.

“Without Shriners Hospitals for Children, I wouldn’t be able to dream as big as I do,” said Alec. “I know anything is possible because the staff remind me all the time that I can do whatever I set my mind to. I live a full life because of Shriners Hospitals.”

Alec is just one of many children who have benefited from the hope and healing found at Shriners Hospitals for Children.

THE PAT TILLMAN AWARD

In 2005, the East-West Shrine Game officials created the Pat Tillman Award to recognize true leaders, both on and off the football field. Pat Tillman, a former NFL football player and decorated member of the U.S. Army, sacrificed his life in service to his country after the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks on the U.S. The award would be the game’s top honor.

“It is a true honor for our game to be associated with the name Pat Tillman,” said Harold Richardson, executive director of the East-West Shrine Game. “The fact that he gave up a lucrative career to defend our country is a testament to how special he was. He is truly commendable.”

The award, given each year in memory of Tillman, honors the player who best exemplifies intelligence, sportsmanship and service. The honor celebrates a student athlete’s outstanding achievements and conduct, in and out of the game.

The 2018 Pat Tillman Award recipient was Ohio State quarterback J.T. Barrett.

OHIO STATE’S J.T. BARRETT HONORED WITH 2018 AWARD

A Texas native, Barrett capped an outstanding four-year career with the Buckeyes by leading the team to its second Big Ten title in his four years as a starting quarterback in 2017, and to a Goodyear Cotton Bowl Classic victory over USC. The only three-time captain in school history, Barrett started 44 games in his Ohio State career and set the school record with 38 victories, set a total of 39 Ohio State (34) or Big Ten Conference (five) records, including some of the most prestigious for a quarterback. He was responsible for 147 passing and rushing touchdowns to rank fourth in NCAA history in that category, and was in the Top 10 in the Heisman Trophy race twice, including finishing fifth in 2014.

“J.T. Barrett is one of the great young leaders I have ever been around,” said Ohio State coach Urban Meyer. “On behalf of the entire Ohio State football program, I want to congratulate J.T. on this tremendous honor of being named the East-West Shrine Game’s Pat Tillman Award winner.”

Barrett started his Shrine Game experience with a visit to Shriners Hospitals for Children—Tampa, where he played with patients on the basketball court, pushing them on swings, taking photos and signing autographs. He spent the week practicing with his teammates under East Head Coach Jonathan Hayes, tight ends coach of the Cincinnati Bengals.

“It is an honor to be mentioned with a man like Pat Tillman,” said Barrett. “He stood for being of service to people and was selfless, thinking of others before himself. Football is something that I do, but that’s not who I am and that’s not what life is all about.”

As of this writing, Barrett is currently a quarterback for the New Orleans Saints, as a member of the practice squad.

PAT TILLMAN: THE MAN BEHIND THE AWARD

Pat Tillman was born November 6, 1976, in San Jose, California, to Mary and Patrick Tillman. The oldest of three, Tillman was a deeply caring brother and son, and driven to succeed. In high school, Tillman excelled in football and led his team to the Central Coast Division 1 Football Championship and received a football scholarship from Arizona State University in 1994. Earning a 3.8 GPA and numerous student athlete awards, Tillman also excelled academically. While at Arizona State, Tillman led his school to an undefeated season, a Rose Bowl appearance and was named the “Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Year.” Later that year, Tillman went on to be the defensive MVP of the 1998 East-West Shrine Game.

Tillman’s strength and perseverance impressed the Arizona Cardinals, and they selected him in the seventh round of the NFL Draft. Tillman soon became the team’s starting safety, and in 2000, he broke the franchise record with 224 tackles.

After the events of Sept. 11 and the U.S. invasion in the Middle East, Tillman put his professional football career on hold and joined the U.S. Army. Following a tour of duty, Tillman and his brother, Kevin, were called to Afghanistan as part of Operation Mountain Storm. On April 22, 2004, Tillman was killed on a mission in Eastern Afghanistan. His sacrifice was recognized and mourned throughout the nation.

Although the life of this extraordinary person was short, Tillman provided us with many unforgettable football moments, honorable service to the country and an approach to life we all should aspire to follow.

On behalf of the East-West Shrine Game, we extend our best wishes to the 2019 Pat Tillman Award recipient. May you carry this distinction into your future with honor, reverence and determination.
WELCOMING TWO NEW MEMBERS TO THE EAST-WEST SHRINE GAME HALL OF FAME

The East-West Shrine Game Hall of Fame is home to some of the greatest names to ever play the game of football. Each year, past players are selected to join this elite group; candidates must have played in the East-West Shrine Game, and have had a noteworthy career. The induction ceremony, which recognizes the honorees for their many achievements, takes place during the Players’/Hall of Fame Banquet the night before the game.

This year, the East-West Shrine Game is very proud to welcome former players Troy Vincent Sr. and Barry Smith to its Hall of Fame family as the 2019 inductees.

TROY VINCENT SR. >>>

Born: June 8, 1970, in Trenton, New Jersey
College: Wisconsin
Position: Cornerback
East-West Shrine Game: East | Game No. 67 (Jan. 19, 1992) | Stanford Stadium
NFL Career: Miami Dolphins | Philadelphia Eagles | Buffalo Bills | Washington Redskins

Troy Vincent Sr., Executive Vice President of NFL Football Operations, began his football career as a first round pick of the Miami Dolphins in the 1992 draft. After playing in the NFL for 15 seasons, he was nominated to the NFL Pro Football Hall of Fame and inducted into the Halls of Fame of the Philadelphia Eagles, the State of Pennsylvania, the University of Wisconsin and Pennsbury High School.

As Executive Vice President of Football Operations, Vincent informs the business of the NFL through the unique lens of his previous roles as not only a player, but also as a player’s union president and senior vice president of player engagement. He employs the highest standards to enhance and preserve football and its value to society.

With a platform that touches millions, Vincent is recognized as one of the most powerful influencers. His recognitions include being named one of the Most Influential Minorities in Sports in 2016 by Forbes magazine, one of Savoy magazine’s top 100 Most Influential Blacks in Corporate America in 2016 and was also listed as one of the 50 Most Influential People in Sports by Ebony magazine.

Vincent has long been a promoter of the values of character and leadership. He received the NFL Walter Payton Man of the Year Award, NFL Players Association Byron Whitizzer White Award, Sporting News #1 Good Guy and NFL Athletes in Action Bart Starr Award. Vincent also received the National Jefferson Award for Public Service, considered the Nobel Prize for extraordinary public service and making the world a better place to live.

Vincent uses this platform for good, helping in philanthropic efforts across the nation. As a national leader and advocate against domestic violence and sexual assault, his commitment to leadership over violence has anchored him as a nationally recognized voice for those who have none or struggle to be heard. As a humanitarian and powerful advocate in the national campaign against domestic violence, sexual assault and child abuse, Vincent is a servant leader, demonstrated by his visiting shelters, speaking to men’s groups and challenging others to lend their platforms.

His transformational and visionary leadership approach promotes using the game of football to positively impact people’s lives through excellence and service by applying a vision of clarity, consistency and credibility to all aspects of football operations.

PLAYING IN THE EAST-WEST SHRINE GAME

In 1992, Vincent played in the 67th East-West Shrine Game and competed on the East team. As an East-West Shrine Game player, Vincent took part in one of the most important game-week traditions, a visit to a Shriners Hospital, which is meant as an opportunity to gain a greater understanding of the true purpose of the game. This experience had a lasting impression on him.

“My most memorable moment about the East-West Shrine Game was visiting the children and caregivers at the Shriners Hospital, and how they inspired me toward a lifetime of service to others,” he said.

The friendships Vincent made also stayed with him long after the game.

“The East-West Shrine Game fostered camaraderie between the athletes that lasted week in and week out as we competed with one another throughout our NFL playing experience,” he said. Game week also provided additional opportunities for Vincent, one of which had a major effect on him personally.

“A sobering experience of the East-West Shrine Game week was crossing the waters of the San Francisco Bay and touring the legendary Alcatraz prison,” he said.

MY MOST MEMORABLE MOMENT ABOUT THE EAST-WEST SHRINE GAME WAS VISITING THE CHILDREN AND CAREGivers AT THE SHRINERS HOSPITAL, AND HOW THEY INSPIRED ME TOWARD A LIFETIME OF SERVICE TO OTHERS.
BARRY SMITH >>>

Born: January 15, 1951, in West Palm Beach, Florida
College: Florida State University
Position: Wide Receiver
East-West Shrine Game: East | Game No. 48 (Dec. 30 1972) | Candlestick Park
NFL Draft: 1973 | Round: 1 | Pick: 21
NFL Career: Green Bay Packers | Tampa Bay Buccaneers

Florida State University has produced many great wide receivers, and Barry Smith’s career puts him with the best of them. From 1970 to 1972, Smith snatched the football for the Seminoles with remarkable precision. As a senior in 1972, Smith caught 69 passes for 1,243 yards and 13 touchdowns. He led the nation in reception yards and touchdown passes caught and was named first team All-American on squads selected by several groups including the UPI, AP and Football Coaches team. Smith would finish his FSU career second in virtually every receiving category with 2,535 yards on 127 receptions and 27 touchdowns.

Smith played in the 1972 East-West Shrine Game in San Francisco, the 1973 Senior Bowl in Mobile—in which he was named the “Outstanding Offensive Player on South”—and in the 1973 College All-Star Game in Chicago.

Smith was the 21st player taken in the first round in the NFL draft by the Green Bay Packers, where he played for three years, from 1973 to 1975, and was selected in the NFL expansion draft by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1976.

Smith has remained a loyal supporter of FSU athletics. The office complex housing the FSU softball and soccer offices is named after him and his wife.

He has received many awards, has been and is involved in numerous civic and charitable activities. In 1973, he was a Wheaties NFL Rookies of the Year Finalist while playing with the Green Bay Packers. In 1975, he was named Dodge-NFL Man of the Year, also while playing with the Green Bay Packers. He was actively involved with the Big Brothers Program in Green Bay and the Special Olympics in Florida. In 1979, Smith was the recipient of the Governor’s Leadership Award, presented by Florida Governor Bob Graham, and that same year, he was inducted into the Florida State University Athletic Hall of Fame. He was also endowed an athletic scholarship at Florida State University.

Smith is a current member and/or past board of directors member of the Florida Special Olympics, National Football Foundation—Tampa Bay Chapter, FSU Seminole Boosters, FSU Varsity Club, NFL Alumni—Tampa Bay Chapter, NFL Former Players—Tampa Bay Chapter, Tampa Bay Seminole Club, Fellowship of Christian Athletes & ALS Association—Florida Chapter, Hillsborough Masonic Lodge #25—Tampa, Scottish Rite Temple, Egypt Shriners, and Royal Order of Jesters Court 89—Tampa.

Smith has served as president of the Florida Sports Hall of Fame since 2015. He is currently a marketing consultant for Geiger Promotional Products.

Smith is very proud of his wife, Mary Ann Stiles, who was named one of America’s pre-eminent lawyers at Quintairos, Prieto, Wood & Boyer, P.A., as well as his two children, Amanda Smith, a CAD CAM designer at Jesse & Frichtel Dental Labs in Pittsburgh, and Andrew Smith, a client advisor, vice president at J.P. Morgan Private Bank in Tampa.

More than 45 years have passed since Smith played in the East-West Shrine Game, and he still has a deep connection to both the game and the Shriners organizations.

In 1981, shortly after he retired from the NFL, Smith was raised a Master Mason. He joined Egypt Shriners in 1983.

“When the East-West Shrine Game came to Tampa Bay, I jumped at the chance to become involved because I had come full circle, first as a player in the game, and then as a Shriner volunteer with the game,” Smith said.

“And now being inducted into the East-West Shrine Game Hall of Fame — this is a huge honor.”

Smith has even recruited other former NFL players to become Shriners. Former Florida State quarterback and fellow East-West Shrine Game alumnus and teammate, Gary Huff, joined Smith and became a Mason and Shriner, as did Smith’s son.

“I have two big thrills and that is my good buddy and former teammate, Gary Huff, who also played in the ’72 East-West Shrine Game, also became a Shrine Mason in Tallahassee and was inducted into the East-West Shrine Game Hall of Fame last year. The other is my son, Andrew, who played football at Georgia Tech, is also a Shrine Mason with me at Egypt Shriners,” Smith said.

Smith credits the East-West Shrine Game visit to the hospital to be the driving force behind his becoming personally involved with the fraternity.

“The game truly told the Shriners story and opened my eyes.

The East-West Shrine Game Hall of Fame is home to some of the greatest names ever to play the game. Each year, past players are selected to join this elite club. Candidates must have played in the East-West Shrine Game and have accomplished something significant in their career.

“St. Pete’s support of craft brewing has allowed local brewing to take root and produce some great social interaction, as well as tasty beverages.”

This is our sunshine.

Find your place in the sun.

361 days of sunshine every year is only the beginning. St. Pete also shines through its charming, bungalow-lined neighborhoods, original craft brew pubs, world-class restaurants led by award-winning chefs and a cultural fabric as diverse as its offerings.
Sam Mills III just completed his 14th season with the Carolina Panthers and eighth as assistant defensive line coach. Mills has worked closely with a unit that has been among the NFL's most productive the past six seasons.

Since 2012, no group of defensive linemen has produced more sacks than Carolina's 219.0. In addition to getting to the quarterback, the defensive line has been integral in the Panthers' ability to stop the run as Carolina's rush defense has ranked in the top six in the NFL in four of the past six seasons, and overall ranks third with 96.2 rushing yards allowed since 2012.

In 2017, the defensive line helped the Panthers record 50 sacks, ranking third in the NFL and fourth in franchise history. Julius Peppers and Mario Addison led the team with 11.0 sacks each, the fifth pair of teammates with double-digit sacks in a season in franchise history. The line also helped the Panthers rank third in the league in rushing defense, giving up just 88.1 rushing yards a game, the second fewest in franchise history.

In 2016, Mills helped tutor a defensive line that produced 35 of the team's 47 sacks, which ranked second in the NFL. Addison produced a then-career-high 9.5 sacks, and defensive tackles Kawann Short and Star Lotulelei combined for 10 sacks, tied for the fifth-most sacks by a pair of defensive tackles in the NFL.

In 2015, Mills assisted a unit that helped the Panthers reach Super Bowl 50. Carolina's defensive line recorded 33.5 of the team's 44 sacks. The unit contributed to a defense that ranked sixth in the NFL in total defense, the fourth consecutive season the team fielded a top-10 defense, and also helped Carolina rank fourth in the NFL in rushing defense.

In 2014, Mills assisted a defense that finished 10th in the NFL in total defense. In Carolina's 27-16 NFC Wild Card victory over Arizona, the defensive line gathered four sacks to help limit the Cardinals to an NFL postseason record 78 total net yards.

During the 2013 season, Mills aided a unit that helped the Panthers lead the NFL with 60 sacks, including a team-record nine at Atlanta, and rank second in total defense, second in rushing defense and sixth in passing defense.

In 2012, Mills worked with a line that was responsible for 37 of Carolina's 39 sacks. Charles Johnson led the team with 12.5, and Greg Hardy posted 11 as they became the first Panthers tandem to record double-digit sacks since 2002.

Prior to the 2011 season, Mills added assistant defensive line coach to his title along with serving as Carolina's defensive quality control coach, though he actually had been working with the defensive line since 2006. He assisted a line that accounted for 25.5 of the team's 31 sacks.

After spending the 2005 season in a dual role as a strength and conditioning and defensive assistant, Mills was promoted to defensive quality control coach in 2006.

Mills is no stranger to the organization. His father, Sam, is the only Panthers player to have his number retired and is the only player inducted into the team's Hall of Honor. When his father played for the Panthers, Mills worked as a ball boy at training camp and later in the equipment room before joining the strength and conditioning program.

Mills followed in his father's footsteps by playing at Montclair State in New Jersey, where the elder Mills was an NCAA Division II All-America at linebacker. He started 20 games in two seasons at defensive back for the Red Hawks and totaled 71 tackles, two interceptions, 14 passes defensed, three forced fumbles and one fumble recovery.

This is the fifth time that Mills will be a member of the coaching staff for the East-West Shrine Game.

Adam Zimmer just completed his fifth season as the Minnesota Vikings linebackers coach.

The 2017 Vikings 13-3 regular-season record was the second best in the history of the franchise. Minnesota won the NFC North and hosted a Divisional Round Playoff game against Zimmer’s former team, the New Orleans Saints, where the Vikings won on a walk-off, game-winning touchdown as time expired in the fourth quarter.

The Vikings defense led the NFL in yards per game allowed (275.9) for the first time since 1993 and led the league allowing 15.8 points per game in the regular season. The Vikings defense limited opponents to 83.6 rushing yards per game (second in the NFL) and 3.6 yards per rush (fifth in the NFL). Minnesota held opponents to 192.4 passing yards per game, second in the NFL, making them the only defense in the NFL to rank in the top three in both rushing yards and passing yards per game. The defense also held opponents to a 25.2% (51/202) 3rd-down conversion rate, the best mark in the NFL.

The 2016 Vikings defense posted the highest ranking, #3 in the NFL, since 1993. The Vikings defense ranked #5 in scoring defense, allowing 18.7 points per game and one Zimmer’s top pupils, LB Anthony Barr, was named to his second Pro Bowl. Minnesota tied for fourth in the NFL with 41.0 sacks and tied for seventh in the NFL with 27 takeaways.

The 2015 Vikings won the NFC North and hosted a Wild Card Playoff game, highlighted by a stingy defense that jumped to #5 in the NFL in points allowed at 18.9 after ranking #11 in 2014. Under Zimmer’s watch, Barr elevated his game in his second year in the NFL and was the first Vikings LB to become a Pro Bowler since 2012.

During his initial season with the Vikings, Zimmer helped Barr splash onto the scene, leading the Vikings in tackles through the first 12 games before he was shut down for the season due to injury. Barr, who is new to the position, having played FB for two years in college before switching to LB and immediately contributed, starting every game he played in recording 99 tackles, 4.0 sacks, 2 forced fumbles and 3 passes defensed. Barr’s 99 tackles ranks as the fifth-most in team history among rookies.

Before joining the Vikings, Zimmer spent the 2013 season with the Cincinnati Bengals and has previously worked with New Orleans (2006-09) and Kansas City (2010-12).

A coach for four playoff teams in his nine seasons in the NFL, including the Bengals in 2013, Zimmer was also a member of the New Orleans Saints coaching staff in 2009 when they defeated Indianapolis 31-17 in Super Bowl XLIV. Prior to joining the Vikings, all three teams he has been with have won a Division title, combining for four total.

Prior to joining the Bengals, Zimmer served as defensive assistant/assistant LBs coach for the Chiefs for 3 seasons. In 2012, his final season in Kansas City, Zimmer coached Tamba Hali, Justin Houston and Derrick Johnson to spots in the Pro Bowl. It marked the first time in Chiefs history that three LBs were named to the Pro Bowl in the same season.

In Zimmer’s first season with Kansas City, the Chiefs won the AFC West title with a 10-6 record.

Zimmer spent four seasons with the New Orleans Saints and added duties as the assistant LBs coach in 2009. During their championship season in 2009, the Saints defense had the second-most takeaways in the NFL (39), and Jonathan Vilma earned Pro Bowl honors.

Zimmer was a safety for Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas, from 2002-05 and graduated in 2006. Zimmer is the son of Vikings Head Coach Mike Zimmer, and 2018 marks the 6th season the father and son have worked together. Adam was born in Ogden, Utah while his father served as an assistant coach at Weber State University.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME MEMBERS WHO PLAYED IN THE EAST-WEST SHRINE GAME

Opened in 1963, the Pro Football Hall of Fame is a tribute to the men who have made professional football America’s most popular sport. The mission of the Pro Football Hall of Fame is to “Honor the Heroes of the Game, Preserve its History, Promote its Values, and Celebrate Excellence EVERYWHERE.” Being a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame is a huge honor and privilege, and the East-West Shrine Game is proud to have 78 former players inducted into this prestigious group.

The East-West Shrine Game continues to be an important part of America’s football tradition, giving top college players a chance to showcase their talents to NFL scouts and a national television audience. A strong performance in the Game can greatly impact a player’s chances of a career in the NFL.

NFL LEGENDS SERVE AS TEAM CAPTAINS

Pro Football Hall of Famers Will Shields and Aeneas Williams, three-time Pro Bowler Mark Brunell and three-time Super Bowl champion Willie McGinest are serving as the 2019 East-West Shrine Game Legends captains.

The four Legends captains, who all played in the East-West Shrine Game, have been serving as mentors for players throughout the week, and are present on the sidelines on game day.

“The East-West Shrine Game merges both the game with community service by enriching young lives at the Shriners Hospitals,” said Troy Vincent, NFL Executive Vice President of Football Operations. “These NFL Legends captains exemplify the very best of on-field play and giving back to community. As a former East-West Shrine Game participant, their mentorship throughout the week will have a lifetime impact on the players.”

For more than 90 years, some of football’s greatest players and coaches have contributed to the tradition of the East-West Shrine Game, the nation’s first college all-star football game. The East-West Shrine Game features some of college football’s best prospects, and is live on NFL Network.

“We are thrilled to have these exceptional alumni return as NFL Legends to work with our 2019 East-West Shrine Game players,” said Harold Richardson, East-West Shrine Game executive director. “The skill and knowledge that the Legends can provide to our players will further their ability to transition to the professional level next season in the NFL.”

MARK BRUNELL >>>
Brunell enjoyed a 19-year NFL career, highlighted by nine seasons with the Jacksonville Jaguars where he was a three-time Pro Bowl selection and holds the franchise record for passing yards, passing touchdowns and most 300-yard games. He also played for the Green Bay Packers, Washington Redskins, New Orleans Saints and New York Jets and was a member of New Orleans’ Super Bowl XLIV winning team. Brunell remains active in the football community, currently serving as the head coach for the Episcopal School of Jacksonville.

WILL SHIELDS >>>
A member of the 2015 Pro Football Hall of Fame class, Shields was a 12-time Pro Bowl selection and three-time First-Team All-Pro during his 14-year career with the Kansas City Chiefs. Shields never missed a game at guard throughout his career and was named to the NFL’s All-Decade Team of the 2000’s. He was named the 2003 Walter Payton Man of the Year for his work with the Will to Succeed Foundation, a charitable organization he founded in 1993.

WILLIE McGINEST >>>
A two-time Pro Bowl selection and three-time Super Bowl champion, McGinest was a vitally important member of the New England Patriots dynasty of the early 2000s. His 15-year NFL career was highlighted by 12 seasons with New England, where he recorded an NFL-record 16 postseason sacks, including a single-game playoff record 4.5 sacks in the Patriots’ 2005 AFC Wild Card game. McGinest, who finished his career with the Cleveland Browns, currently serves as an analyst for NFL Network.

AENEAS WILLIAMS >>>
An eight-time Pro Bowl selection and the 1991 NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year, Williams played both cornerback and safety throughout his 14-year career for the Arizona Cardinals and St. Louis Rams, earning Pro Bowl selections at both positions. The former walk-on at Southern University was selected to the NFL’s All-Decade Team of the 1990’s and enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2014.

The East-West Shrine Game was a uniquely special time for Kansas State University kicker Matthew McCrane, who played for the West in the 2018 game. Matthew’s father, Steven McCrane, is a Shriner, and also worked at Shriners Hospitals for Children—Galveston while attending the University of Texas Medical Branch. Matthew’s grandfather, Wayne McCrane, is also a Shriner, and is an Emeritus member of the Shriners Hospitals for Children—Houston Board of Governors.

Matthew was a third-generation Master Mason prior to being invited to play in the East-West Shrine Game, and made the decision to take the next step to become a Shriner shortly after he accepted. Matthew was officially “fezzed” a Shriner by (then) Imperial Potentate Gary Bergenske during the Players’/Hall of Fame Banquet on Friday evening. During the special moment, Matthew’s father and grandfather joined him on stage.

We are proud to welcome Matthew to the fraternity, and thank him for his participation in the 2018 East-West Shrine Game.

In the 2018 NFL season, McCrane spent time on the Oakland Raiders and the Arizona Cardinals. In his NFL debut with the Raiders, Matthew kicked a game-winning field goal in overtime, defeating the Cleveland Browns 45-42.

University of Alberta offensive lineman Mark Korte, who played for the West team, was one of two Canadians to play in the 2018 East-West Shrine Game; he, too, had an extra special connection to the game.

Mark’s father, Brent Korte, also played football for the University of Alberta, and played in the East-West Shrine Game, as well, in 1989. In addition, Mark’s uncle, Dwayne Johnson, is an active member of Al Shamal Shriners in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, so he has been familiar with the Shriners organizations for a long time.

Both Mark’s father and uncle came down to St. Petersburg to support him and attend the game, and to celebrate their family ties to the East-West Shrine Game and Shriners International. We are glad that our organizations could help strengthen this family’s legacy, and we thank the Korte father-and-son duo for being a part of the East-West Shrine Game tradition.

As of this writing, Mark is currently playing for the Canadian Football League’s Ottawa Redblacks as an offensive lineman. Ottawa selected him fourth overall in the 2018 CFL Draft.
The East-West Shrine Game is about so much more than just an exciting football game — it’s about helping the children of Shriners Hospitals, providing a national stage for college all-stars to showcase their athletic abilities, and giving our fans the total experience, complete with everything you’ve come to expect and love about football games, along with our own unique additions.

We are pleased to introduce you to the special guests and remarkable performances that will be featured throughout game-day. These individuals and groups have become an important part of the East-West Shrine Game tradition, and we are grateful for their support. We also thank all of you for being here, and hope you enjoy the show.

GAME DAY ENTERTAINMENT AND FEATURED GUESTS

PRE-GAME CEREMONY: COLOR GUARD

THE EGYPT SHRINERS LEGION OF HONOR COLOR GUARD:
Performing during the pre-game ceremony today is the Egypt Shriners Legion of Honor Color Guard.

The Legion of Honor members are Shriners who have served, or are still serving, in the armed forces of their countries. Honorably discharged or retired, volunteer or draftee, officer or enlisted, Legion of Honor members are all proud to be of service to their nations. The group here today is an example of a Shriners International temple’s Legion of Honor uniformed unit.

Since 2011, the Egypt Shriners Legion of Honor has been the primary Color Guard for the East-West Shrine Game.

MARCHING ACROSS THE FIELD DURING PRE-GAME

MEMBERS OF THE SHRINERS INTERNATIONAL JOINT BOARDS:
The members of the Joint Boards are Shriners who are members of the Boards of Directors and Board of Trustees elected to oversee Shriners Hospitals for Children.

SHRINERS INTERNATIONAL VIP POTENTATES:
A Potentate is the elected leader (president) of a local Shriners International temple. The VIP Potentates on the field are members of the VIP Suite Club, specific to the East-West Shrine Game.

LADIES GROUPS:
The ladies’ organizations are a very important part of Shriners Hospitals for Children’s fundraising efforts. These organizations have contributed millions of dollars and volunteer hours to Shriners Hospitals. They also donate much-needed items, including clothing, quilts, books, toys and games, to the health care system in support of our commitment to family-centered care. The ladies you see here on the field today represent the following organizations:

- Daughters of the Nile
- Ladies’ Oriental Shrine of North America
- Shrine Guilds of America Inc.

OFFICERS OF THE GRAND LODGE OF FLORIDA:
Shriners International was founded on the Masonic principles of brotherly love, relief and truth, and these core values continue to be the basis of all we do; at the center of every Shriner is a Mason. Both Shriners (Shrine-Masons) and Masons are dedicated to improving their communities and helping others. The officers on the field belong to the Grand Lodge of Florida, which is the state’s overarching governing body of freemasonry.

ENTERTAINMENT THROUGHOUT THE GAME

CHEERLEADERS:
What would a football game be without cheerleaders? Our cheerleaders are here to motivate the crowd, add a little fun and tradition, and cheer on the East and West teams. The cheer squads performing today are:

- Robinson High School Cheer Squad
  - of Tampa, Coach: Dawne Crosby

- St. Petersburg High School Cheer Squad
  - of St. Petersburg, Coach: Andrea Anderson

- Shorecrest Preparatory School Cheer Squad
  - of St. Petersburg, Coach: Nancy Tanner

- Keswick Christian School Cheer Squad
  - of St. Petersburg, Coach: Jennifer Ryan

SHRINERS CLOWNS:
Essential to any Shriners event are the beloved Shriner Clowns, who will be performing on the sidelines and across the field throughout the game, making everyone laugh and smile.

SHRINERS MARCHING BAND:
The Marching Band, led by Director of Bands Michael Kernodle, will be providing today’s musical halftime entertainment, and will also be performing from the stands throughout the game.

THE MASCOT, FEZZY:
Proudly sporting the iconic Shriners’ red fez, the giant bear you see on the field is our beloved Fezzy, the official Shriners Hospitals for Children Love to the rescue ambassador.

The life-size Fezzy mascot here today is determined to help raise awareness for the health care system, and to demonstrate the connection between the East-West Shrine Game and Shriners Hospitals for Children.

Fezzy is a reminder of the patient-centered care provided at Shriners Hospitals for Children. Depending on a child’s needs, teddy bears can be used to help young patients understand upcoming medical procedures and potential outcomes. The smaller Fezzy teddy bears may also be given to patients as a source of comfort, and as a way to help alleviate the apprehension that may surround a hospital stay or surgery.

SHRINERS CLOWNS:
Essential to any Shriners event are the beloved Shriner Clowns, who will be performing on the sidelines and across the field throughout the game, making everyone laugh and smile.

These clowns represent various Shriners International temples across the country, and many of those you see here today have been a part of the East-West Shrine Game for several years, and look forward to showcasing their skits, balloon skills, costumes and makeup, game after game.

LAKEWOOD HIGH SCHOOL MARCHING BAND:
Of course, a football game isn’t complete without the upbeat, familiar sounds of a proud, energetic marching band filling the stadium. A St. Petersburg crowd favorite, the talented Lakewood High School Marching Band, led by Director of Bands Michael Kernodle, will be providing today’s musical halftime entertainment, and will also be performing from the stands throughout the game.

FEZZY IS A REMINDER OF THE PATIENT-CENTERED CARE PROVIDED AT SHRINERS HOSPITALS FOR CHILDREN. DEPENDING ON THE CHILD’S NEEDS, TEDDY BEARS CAN BE USED TO HELP YOUNG PATIENTS UNDERSTAND UPCOMING MEDICAL PROCEDURES AND POTENTIAL OUTCOMES.
Clown Spotlight: Scubie

Tom “Scubie” Casey is a member of the International Shrine Clown Association (ISCA), and for the past seven years and counting, he has volunteered his time to coordinate all of the Shriners clowns, who come from all around the country, for the game. He lives in Marathon in the Florida Keys and is a member of Mahi Shriners in Miami. Despite having been ill and through surgeries, he has remained a huge advocate of the game and a major supporter of Shriners Hospitals for Children.

“To be honest, I don’t remember exactly how I came to volunteer for this, but as a Shriner, when asked, you do your best to make things happen for Shriners Hospitals for Children,” said Casey. “When I did start, there was a short list that the East-West Shrine Game had for clowns. I reached out to the ISCA for help. I also sent letters to all the Shriner Clown Clubs that had some sort of website or contact information. The list has grown, but basically it has been word of mouth from one clown to another that has made it happen. I am proud to be a part of the East-West Shrine Game.”

Casey is currently 67 and retired, and in addition to being a Shriner clown, he enjoys fishing, diving (freediving and SCUBA) and travel.

“Our Mahi Shriners temple is two and a half hours away so I don’t get to many meetings or events,” he said. “Our local Marathon Shrine Club and ladies Keyettes is seasonal—we are made up primarily of part-time ‘snowbirds’—and we usually raise over $30,000 for our Mahi Shriners patient transportation fund, but Hurricane Irma put a big hit on us last year. Our little club provides over 90 percent of all of Mahi’s transportation donations. Our biggest fundraiser is to stand on US1 for six to seven hours, collecting donations. We wear our fezzes, and I clown up and stand at the lead, waving and dancing around ... we raise $15,000 or so.

“I am proud to be a Shriner and Mason. For Shriners, we are proud of the East-West Shrine Game tradition, proud to showcase the talent of players, and I am proud to ‘Clown for a Cause’ for our Shriners Hospitals for Children.”

We thank Casey for his dedication to the East-West Shrine Game, Shriners Hospitals for Children and Shriners International.

THE ROAD TO OMAHA® BEGINS IN HOUSTON

Shriners Hospitals for Children® and the Astros Foundation are proud to team together to host six of the nation’s premier college baseball programs. The 2019 Shriners Hospitals for Children College Classic will feature Baylor, Houston, Rice, Texas A&M, TCU and Texas State. This event is regarded as one of the top collegiate baseball tournaments in the nation. Since 2001, the Shriners Hospitals for Children College Classic has hosted 32 different NCAA® Division-I baseball programs at Minute Maid Park, home of the Houston Astros. The nine-game, round robin tournament has hosted the number one team in preseason polls seven times in tournament history and has hosted two eventual NCAA College World Series Champions. Daily tickets start at $19 and weekend passes are available online for $42.

Keys to the game

Stay out of 3rd and long situations
Don’t wait until business is slow to start marketing. Stay consistent.

Avoid turnovers
Don’t let your competitors make an interception. Market to both clients and prospects.

Special teams are key
Pinstripe will help you make big returns.
